

"Disability Forum" is a weekly program by, about, and for persons with disabilities. It is also for our families, friends and anyone who comes into contact with us on a regular basis. There are over one million of us - individuals with disabilities - residing in the City of Los Angeles.

"Disability Forum" is aired Thursday evenings at 9:30 P.M. and rebroadcast on Sunday afternoons at 4:00 P.M. It is hosted by the City's Americans with Disabilities Act Compliance Officer, Mitch Pomerantz, who works for the Department on Disability. Mitch was the first totally blind professional employee hired by the City and brings over 30 years experience as a disability-rights advocate and a City employee to the program.

The show has explored a wide variety of topics of concern to the disability community including: Access Services, Inc.; disability mediation; Mental Health Advocacy Services; the current state of disability rights law; and numerous others.

Please take the time to watch "Disability Forum" and see what is happening for persons with disabilities residing within our fare City.
